Solution to Busing Problem Here Stumbles over Dollar Shortage

Traffic on Nassau Street occasionally slows down to a dead stall. Apparently the same thing has happened to proposals of the joint Borough-Township transportation committee for breaking the traffic jam and setting Nassau Street free again.

In the Borough, Mayor Robert W. Cawley concedes that it's Council's next move, but adds that he and Council are skeptical because they don't think the plan will work.

In the Township, Mayor John D. Wallace and Committeemen say they want a lot more detailed information before they can warm up to the idea.

John Lasley, Transportation Committee chairman, says tartly that there isn't any point in working out details unless governing bodies give some indication of financial support.

The proposal: sign a contract with Mercer Metro for three buses that would make six trips a day—three morning, three afternoon—from peripheral parking lots into the Central Business District. One bus would then spend the day following a loop route through Princeton.

People who drive into Princeton to work would park in the peripheral lots and take the bus to town, reversing the process at the end of the working day.

For an experimental six months, the cost would be $30,000. Parking lots would be at Jadwin Gymnasium, off Washington Road; Friends Meeting House on Quaker Bridge just before Mercer Road; the Armory on River Road near Route 27 and Kingston; the Jewish Center on Nassau Street between Cedar Lane and Riverside; the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill at State Road and All Saints Church, on Van Dyke Road off Snowdon Lane.

So far, all but one of these institutions has offered parking space free. Nobody yet knows who would pay for snow-plowing, security maintenance and lighting.

The key question is, "Who's going to pay that $30,000?"

"Why should the Township spend a lot of money to solve the problems of downtown Nassau Street?" asks Mayor Wallace. "But it's a great argument for consolidation."

Even Mr. Lasley, who lives in the Township, says gloomily, "I question whether I'd want my own tax dollar to go for this."

"We've always had to face the fact that the Township won't go into this plan with us," says Mayor Cawley. He does think, however, that the day-long bus route around town could be "negotiable" with the Township.

Mr. Lasley and Jay Bleiman, the Township Committeeman charged with transportation, point out that all parking-meter revenue goes into the Borough's treasure-chest. Mr. Bleiman, in particular, likes to emphasize that many parking-meter pennies come from Township pockets.

Alice Male, former Borough Councilman and a member of Mr. Lasley's Transportation Committee, has suggested that the Borough might pay two-thirds of the cost, in reversal of the usual formula that assigns the Borough one third of the cost of joint Borough-

Police Committee "Illegal" - Council Faces Suit

The Borough's Police Committee is an illegal body, the patrolmen's lawyer declared Tuesday night before Borough Council, and Borough police have therefore been advised to ignore any disciplinary actions taken by the Committee.

This bombshell, neatly timed to take Council totally by surprise, effectively wiped out any hope that the Police Committee amendment could be finally acted upon this month.

The amendment would add three voting appointees of the mayor's to the Police Committee, more formally known as the Public Safety Committee, which now consists of the mayor, three Councilmen and the Borough Administrator.

Lawrence Stein, Trenton attorney representing Princeton's Policemen's Benevolent Association, asserted that no "boroughs" in New Jersey and indeed only certain "cities" have the right to establish police boards. Even then, he said, it must be done by referendum.

Any rules and regulations adopted by the Police Committee are illegal because the Committee has no legal basis, Mr. Stein declared. Only Council as a whole can act as a disciplinary or a rule-making body, he said.

Heavy Artillery. In a repetition of last month's Council meeting on the amendment, Princeton's police wheeled out their big guns to register PBA's unalterable opposition to the addition of three voting civilians to the board.

In a crowded chamber, filled to the walls with standees, Council once again heard from police in other municipalities, chiefly Trenton, as they spoke in opposition.

"The state PBA has the money for a court fight," warned Anthony Mazzacca, state attorney for the PBA. "Each officer on every boat in the state is willing to contribute. You face a $30-60,000 lawsuit if you pass this measure."

"We don't want any outside interference with the police," declared Phillip Yacovino, first vice-president of the state PBA, and he cited unsuccessful attempts in New York, Philadelphia and Detroit to establish what the police refer to as a "civilian review board."

"Why do police feel so threatened and so afraid?" asked Mayor Robert W. Cawley.

"Police feel the elected officials are the ones they should be responsible to," Mr. Stein replied.

Background Reasons. As he has in past meetings, Mayor Cawley explained that the ordinance amendment was designed to help resolve tensions between the black community and youth on one hand, and police on the other.

One member of the audience, who said he was 22 years old, declared that Princeton youths were immature and "a bunch of drips."

"The IDA demonstrations were a disgrace:," he said. "Kids were like baboons in a cage in mating season. You talk about prejudice—kids here are prejudiced against police; most of them say police are 'pigs'—is that the kind of youth we'll get on the Police Committee?"

"I resent aoy suggestion that I would appoint an unqualified person," Mayor Cawley snapped.

Councilman Joseph Moore, who is black, pointed at the speaker and said sharply, "It is that very prevailing attitude that makes this ordinance amendment necessary. You are as bigoted and stereo-typed as you can be!"

PBA at Fault. Later, to speakers who denied Princeton had a police problem, and to speakers fearing polarization if the measure passed, Mr. Moore said a Princeton officer (Township, not Borough), had admitted in a local newspaper that he was racially prejudiced.

"It's the PBA that is doing the polarizing," Mr. Moore said. "We're trying to solve the problem in a fair way, making a change to benefit the entire community."

He denied, in a sharp series of exchanges with Mr. Stein, that he had ever characterized an expanded Police Committee as "the" solution. Mayor Cawley, entering the sparring match, told Mr. Stein he felt it was vital to give the new appointees—he has said he would name two blacks and one youth—voting privileges so that people who had long felt neglected, would no longer feel like second-class citizens.

Support for the expanded Committee came from Robert Powell, Democratic candidate for Council. He suggested that voting members of the Committee would be similar to voting members of the Board of Health or the Library Board, all of whom are appointed.

Asked to comment, Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan repeated his total opposition to the measure.

"I've never had a written complaint on a racial issue in all my years as chief," he declared in a voice trembling with feeling. "I don't know what the big problem is — but believe me, this would hurt department morale."

When Mr. Mazzacca asked why charges of discrimination by police hadn't been taken to state civil rights authorities, Mayor Cawley explained that discrimination was often subtle, and related to procedures and behavior rather than to "gross acts."

The measure, in light of Mr. Stein's charges, was deferred for action later.

Anti-War Vote Passes. Council passed, 3-0, with three abstentions, an end-the-war resolution. Charles Cornforth and Thomas Cawley said Council should confine its action to local problems. ("Let's keep our nose out of international questions," Mr. Cornforth said).

Robert Hendry said he preferred an earlier resolution passed last month, and all three Councilmen abstained.

In other matters, Mayor Cawley reported the police cost for the IDA demonstration was $5,844.94, including Township police cost.

IDA has declined to pay the bill, the mayor said, believing this year's incident "different" from those in other years, when IDA has paid up. The Borough has therefore billed Princeton University and expects payment, the mayor said.

The ordinance for buying a $42,000 pumper for the fire department was introduced. Public hearing — July 11.

A tension-filled evening ended on a note of mild hysteria when Councilman Martin P. Lombardo announced that the Board of Health has proposed a cat-control ordinance.

QUESTIONS RAISED

On Tax Measures. Two questions of concern to Borough taxpayers were raised Friday by Councilman Robert Hendry at Trenton hearings conducted in connection with Governor William Cahill's tax package.

Mr. Hendry's long-term interest is in relief from what he calls the "unbearable burden" of all the tax-exempt property on the Borough rolls.

His figures show that 60.8 percent of all Borough property is tax-exempt. The list ranges from a cemetery worth $695,000 to $117,153,000 consisting of buildnigs owned by institutions like Princeton University, Westminster Choir College and the Seminary.

Mr. Hendry also lists $6,420,000 for Princeton High School and its land; $14,966,000 for the Princeton Medical Center and similar institutions and $6,606,000 for public lands like the Borough's own parking lots, $334,000 for "Morven," the Governor's mansion and an inexplicable valuation of $383,000 for George Washington on his horse, outside Borough Hall. (There is also $265,000 for "other", making up a total of $146,105,000).

The Councilman is unhappy because, he says, the Governor's tax policy commission "threw up its hands completely" on the problem of tax-exempt institutions.

"I don't want to tax the schools out of existence," Mr. Hendry explained, "but some kind of equity is desperately needed. And if we in the Borough don't get state relief, I'm going to try and make these institutional people sit down and negotiate."

The second tax matter that

Taxpayers, to Arms!

The possibility of a $300,000 tax hike for Borough taxpayers, contained within a proposed school tax bill (see below) sent Borough Councilman Charles Cornforth straight through the roof of Borough Hall Tuesday night.

When Councilman Robert Hendry, who uncovered the $300,000, suggested a resolution or letter to Senator William Schluter and Assemblyman Karl Weidel, Mr. Cornforth exclaimed,

"No more paper airplanes against brick walls!"

He proposed, and most Councilmen agreed, that Council should present itself in Trenton as a body to protest. Mr. Hendry said 47 of New Jersey's 500-some school districts would be affected if the measure becomes law.

Township enterprises.

"A great many Township people drive on Nassau and contribute to its traffic, and many park there all day," Mrs. Male says.

Aside from money, it's practicality that bothers Mayor Wallace.

"Take the Unitarian Church lot," he says. "By the time a car has reached there, it's almost into town — that location wouldn't do anything to help traffic coming south down State Road."

Jadwin Lot Helpful. The large Jadwin lot could provide storage for cars that now drive into town along Washington or Alexander. Use of that lot would relieve much of the traffic on Nassau, the Township mayor believes. He likes the Friends Meeting lot, too, because it would thin out traffic at a bad intersection — the one where Quaker Bridge comes into Mercer Road.

But in Mayor Wallace's opinion, the All Saints and Armory lots are useless.

Also, he's wary of the bus circling town all day. Would it be cruising Township residential areas, on streets never designed for a big bus? "We need more details," he says.

Back in the Borough, both Mayor Cawley and Councilman Thomas Cawley talk about incentive.

"What's going to make people use those lots?" Councilman Cawley asks. Both he and Mr. Lasley agree that a strong "negative incentive" is required; that is, removal of all-day parking meters, and/or the establishment of meter fees so steep that people would park in Jadwin or Friends Meeting rather than pay them.

Private Lots Heavily Used. But the Borough is not the biggest parking-lot owner. Private lots, like Palmer Square and South's Garage, provide most of the current storage.

"And you get a store or office with its own lot for employees," Councilman Cawley continues, "is it fair to let them park easy and free, while people who work for somebody else have to park far away and take a bus?"

What he fears, is that people would simply park on Borough residential streets where there are no meters, and walk four or five blocks to work. Because leaving a car in an outlying lot can be extremely inconvenient, he points out.

"What happens if you miss the bus?" Or if you have an irregular working schedule?" He shrugs the unanswerable question.

The reason Mayor Cawley admits it's the Borough's turn to move is that Councilman Cawley has been given the assignment of calculating how much the Borough would lose in meter revenue if all-day meters were taken out. When he makes his formal report, presumably Council will take some action.

Councilman Cawley thinks the difference would be only 33c on a one mouth's collection. Short-term meters would be more heavily used, he suggests, helping to make up the difference.

How to Finance. What about parking garages?

Mrs. Male quotes parking-garage estimates of $3,000 for each parking stall. At that rate, she says, only ten stalls would pay for a six-month trail of the Transportation Commission's proposal.

Councilman Cawley thinks a parking garage is "a necessity," but he also thinks the bus-parking lot proposal might be worth a try as "a" solution, rather than "the" solution.

"It just can't die — something has got to be done," he says.

"The frustrating thing," comments Mayor Cawley, "is that something does indeed have to be done, but maybe it's still too soon. Maybe the traffic problem isn't yet bad enough for people to be willing to give up something to solve it."

bothers Mr. Hendry is Assembly Bill Number 1272 which would apportion taxes for regional school districts, like Princeton, on a rateables basis. At present, current expenses for districts like Princeton's are allocated on a per-pupil basis. Mr. Hendry calculates that the new law could cost the Borough $300,000 more in school taxes.

Mr. Hendry asked that the bill either be changed back to a per-pupil basis, or be redrawn to allow for a period of adjustment, perhaps over as long a time as ten years.

SPORTS GUIDE APPROVED

By School Board. After hearing heavy dispute over coaches' rules and powers, the Board of Education voted unanimously on Tuesday to adopt the proposed sports guidelines for Princeton Regional Schools. The administration - suggested changes were quashed by the board majority.

The Troops of various factions had crowded into Community Park School's small auditorium — school athletes, coaches, teachers, school principals and parents from Princeton and West Windsor. They heard Dr. Robert H. Bierman, board president, twice state the board's strong endorsement of school sports.

"Do you feel that you can live with the guidelines?" Dr. Bierman asked football coach Richard Wood after the vote.

"Yes," he replied, "but out of seven coaches we only have three left. Unless we get more coaches, we won't have much of a program next year."

As speaker after speaker went to the microphone, a tangle of issues emerged: A coach's traditional right to suspend or drop a player from a team. The rights and responsibilities of the school principal in disciplinary matters.

The rights of the group and of the individual. The nuance of racism and of privilege. The right of an athlete to appeal disciplinary action.

The issues were further clouded by references to New Jersey Statutes, to State Board of Education rules, to NJSIAA rules, to a Commissionar of Education ruling, to policy set by previous boards, and even to a court decision in the mid-west.

Future in Doubt. "We have been worried that there wouldn't be any football or any sports program next year," Ren Scott, tri-captain of the football team told the board. "We have tried to write up our own guidelines ourselves. Even if you decide on something else, we have our own rules we're going to go by." There was prolonged applause.

Under the new guidelines, a student may appeal right up the ladder: from staff member, to head coach, athletic director, principal, superintendent, board of education, Commissioner of Education, State Baord of Education and, finally, the courts.

A coach is required to discuss a player's chronic minor infractions with the head coach and athletic director. He has authority to suspend a player from the team for five days maximum, submitting a written report to the athletic director, and a copy to the principal.

For a longer suspension, he must have a hearing with the head coach and athletic director within two days of the infraction and file a written report with the director and principal. To drop a player from the team, he must have a prompt hearing with the principal, director and head coach, stating charges in writing.

Participants in the discussion included Mrs. Bruce Campbell, Board attorney Thomas P. Cook, Daniel Good, a PHS athlete now coaching in Ewing Township; Dave O'Brien, former PHS football co-captain; Mrs. Frederick McDonald; Larry Ivan, Mrs. Betty Drummond, William Bux, Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg, former Board president; Professor Malcolm Diamond, lacrosse coach John McCullough; wrestling coach Thomas Murray, Superintendent Philip McPherson, his assistant, Wesley Johnson, principal Leslie Grove, and many others.

Race Relations. In other matters, the Board took under advisement the recommendation of the YWCA Committee to Combat Racism to install a resourse person in each elementary school to work with the teachers and students.

With Mrs. Dorothy Katz making the presentation the group also recommends demonstration programs for elementary teachers, using his or her own students. Lloyd Taylor added that the school principals are interested in working with the YW and other community groups.

"This is not to be shelved, but to be worked on," Dr. Bierman said.

The board adjourned briefly at the onset of the meeting, and returned to confirm contracts with administration, teachers, secretaries, and aides. It also approved the modern language department goals, as set forth in a report directed by Mrs. Dorothea Lummis, curriculum coordinator, involving elementary, middle and high school levels. It agreed to the placement of eight handicapped children in schools recommended by the child study team and the administration.

Also approved, pending details, is the use of a school bus and minibus for transportation of Princeton children to a Blairstown camp being developed by Dean John Danielson of Princeton University. Len Brown is camp director.

The matter of student fees, as reported by Dr. Henry J. Powsner of the board, was deferred until next meeting.

WOOD SEES NO VICTORY

In Board's Decision. PHS football coach Richard Wood received athletic guidelines from the school board Tuesday night that he said he could accept, but added, "it isn't what I would call a victory."

"I've lost coaches, it sets the program back four or five years. It will take a lot of hard work to get back again," he declared.

Coaches won the right to dismiss a player from a squad when a minority report inserted by associate principal Wesley Johnson that would have required that the coaches first go through the principal was voted down, 5-3, with Mrs. Evelyn Geddes abstaining. Voting in favor of the minority report were Erie Craig, Dr. Robert Bierman and George Fitzgerald.

Coaches also won the right to ban smoking by mombers of a squad over the protests of Superintendent McPherson, who argued that the school couldn't forbid football players something it didn't forbid band members. He had misgivings about trying to govern student behavior off campus.

Board attorney Thomas Cook, however, said that he saw no reason why a special activity like football which traditionally had a no-smoking ban could not have a no-smoking rule. He pointed out that such a rule was legal because participation in interscholastic sports is voluntary. The board adopted the no-smoking rule.

418 TO GRADUATE

In High School Commencement. The 418 members of the Class of 1972 will graduate from Princeton High School this Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in ceremonies in the University's Jadwin Gymnasium.

This will be the first commencement to be held in Jadwin, a location chosen by vote of the senior class. The alternative, the school's own athletic field where graduation exercises are traditionally held if the weather is fine, was voted down by the class.

Nicholas Robinson, class president, will deliver the address of welcome. Valedictorian Cheryl Ann Rahn and Salutatorian Frances Brodsky, the two highest ranking scholars in the class, will both speak.

The Invocation and Benediction will both be given by the Rev. Dr. C. Shelby Rooks of the Fund for Theological Education. Dr. Rooks' daughter Carol is a member of the graduating class.

Diplomas to the graduating seniors will be presented by Dr. Robert Bierman, president of the Princeton Regional Board of Education; Dr. Philip E. McPherson, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Patricia Wertheimer, principal of the high school.

RESTAURANT CLOSED

By Fire in Hopewell. An electrical fire, believed to have started in a flourescent lighting fixture in a ceiling below the kitchen, has caused extensive damage to Charley's Brother, a restaurant located on Spur 518 outside Hopewell.

Owner Merrill Zinder, who also opeates Good Time Charley's in Kingston and Charley's Other Brother near Mount Holly, reported that no estimate had been reached yet of the amount of the damage or when the restaurant will reopen. He added that it "won't be soon" and that he damage cost would be "big".

He described the entire downstairs as a "complete shambles." Telephones melted into black plastic globs and all the corks from wine bottles shot off from the heat. The downstairs bar was destroyed.

The kitchen floor has buckled and is in danger of collapsing, Mr. Zinder reported. The upstairs dining rooms and bar suffered smoke, heat and water damage.

Mr. Zinder added that the manager had left at 2 a.m. Sunday morning and everything was secure. At 3:20, George Belcia of Hopewell saw smoke pouring out a rear door and an alarm was sounded at 3:27. When fireman arrived and opened the doors, flames shot out.

At first, firemen had a difficult time locating the source of the blaze as it spread from the downstairs lightning fixtures. What saved the building, Mr. Zinder stated, was the fact that it had very few windows. "There wasn't enough air inside to fed the flames."

Volunteer firemen from Hopewell and Pennington fought the fire, while a company from Titusville stood by at the Pennington firehouse.

Mr. Zinder was lavish in his praise for the Hopewell and Pennington firemen. "They were marvelous," he said. They really knew what they were doing. They were very professional."

That unusually cold weather last weekend (it tied the record low temperature of 46 for June 4) may be something you'll miss in the days to come. Typical June heat and humidity are about to take over.

By Friday, odds are they'll bring more showers. There's a chance for a sunny weekend, the Man thinks, but hot weather (and fairly frequent precipitation) are the picture straight ahead.

IDA GATHERING — THIS ONE PEACEFUL: About 200 persons — young, old and in between — gathered outside the grounds of the Institute for Defense Analyses building at noon Monday to listen to speeches, to protest IDA's role in the Vietnam war and to present a petition signed by Princetonians, the substance of which appeared in a full page ad in last week's TOWN TOPICS. Story this page.

200 HEAR SPEECHES

At IDA Gathering. It began quietly and peacefully.

Around noon Monday, some 20 persons had gathered to glance at antiwar pictures and statistics assembled between two public address amplifiers. Some photos depicted the victims of the war in Vietnam; others showed some of the sophisticated weapons being used by the United States in the war.

A quick look at one bombing graph illustrated that 6,200,000 tons of bombs have been dropped during the Indochina War as compared to 2,000,000 for all of World War II. Another poster proclaimed that if America had suffered like Vietnam, all of New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island would be cratered, all the states between North Dakota and Oklahoma defoliated, 3.5 million Americans would be dead, 8 million wounded and one-third homeless.

Leaders began passing out literature: IDA and Indochina, What You Can Do NOW For Peace, Anti-Personnel Weapone in Indochina, Air War . . . the new totalitarianism. From a distance, Borough and University police in civilian clothes watched as the crowd began to swell with women and children, students, and men in assorted dress styles. There seemed to be no common mood to the crowd except for their contempt for IDA and the war.

Speakers Heard. Folksinger Cynthie Gooding tried to lead the crowd in a song, "All we are saying is give peace a chance," but she met with little success. Florence Falk, wife of Professor Richard Falk of Princeton University, who has taken a hard stand against this country's involvement in Vietnam and President Nixon, addressed the gathering briefly and introduced two speakers.

"In all the ten years of the war in Vietnam," she said, "this is the first time adult members of the Princeton community have gathered together to protest IDA." She added that copies of their signed protest were to be sent to the president ofl IDA in Virginia and to elected state and national government leaders.

Paul Mayer, a Catholic priest returned recently from Hanoi, described the personal horrors of the bombings he had witnessed in contrast to the terse reports that appear in the New York Times saying only B52s had carried out another mission against military targets. He told of one boy who lost eight members of his family in an early morning bombing raid that came without warning.

He described the B52s as "flying crematoria." Three, he said, could saturate a bomb area two miles wide and a half-mile long. "More and more B52s are being used every day," he said.

He also accused the present administration of carrying ou a systematic bombing of Vietnam. "Our capacity for insanity is unbelievable."

APARTMENT ENTERED

At 197 Witherspoon Street. A thief entered an apartment at 197 Witherspoon Street Friday and stole two stereo speakers valued at $115, a turntable, receiver and portable radio.

According to police, the apartment was entered through a window on the south side of the house. They identified the occupant as Steven Feldman. The entry, reported at 9:38 p.m., was investigated by Sgt. Theodore Lewis and Pfl. James Agins.

Attempt Larceny Fails. A courageous woman prevented the theft of her television set Thursday morning from her Bayard Lane home when she grabbed the intruder.

According to police, the woman, who they declined to identify, saw a young man enter her apartment at 11:21 in the morning, and attempt to remove her TV set. She grabbed the youth and he ran out, police said.

Patrol cars checked the area but found no one. The unsuccessful thief was described as between 20-25, six feet tall, 150 pounds, wearing a red shirt with thin white stripes and light colored trousers.

Home Is Ransacked. A Prospect Avenue home was ransacked Friday afternoon by a thief who left everything behind except cash. The amount of money taken has been undetermined by Township police.

A pane of glass in a front door was punched out to gain entrance. Police identified the occupant as Steve Cuthbert, 529 Prospect. Ptl. Anthony Gaylord investigated.

SHOPLIFTING CONTINUES

At Davidson's Market. Borough police report two more incidents of shoplifting last week at Davidson's Market on Nassau Street.

Isaiah C. White, 19, 1938 Hall, was observed by the store manager, Benjamin Kresker, as he allegedly tried to leave with two packages of salami hidden in his socks. A complaint summons was issued against Mr. White by Borough police and he is scheduled to be heard in Borough court on Wednesday.

The same day, two Skillman residents, Gertrude Tomassoni, 30, and Gabrielle Marchetti, 47, will appear in court to answer a summons that they allegedly shoplifted cigarettes from the store last week. They were also observed by Mr. Kresker, police said.

PROSPECT CLUBS TARGET

Of Larcenies. "There's been a rash of larcenies near the clubs on Prospect Avenue," stated Lt. Michael Carnevale Tuesday, as he reviewed the week's crime from the police docket.

Among the victims were Michael W. Sikora who lost a tape deck and radio valued at $110 from his car parked in front of Dial Lodge, and David Taggart of Bank Street, who lost a $150 stereo tape deck from the dash of his car parked behind the Terrace Club. A front vent window was forced.

David Plaisier of the Cannon Club reported the theft between Friday and Saturday of two tool chests from the club basement. He told police that the two cabinets and mechanic tools were valued at $2209. George F. Pepper of Pearl River, N.Y., and Eugene Brissie of Glen Ridge each lost clothing. Mr. Pepper reported an overnight bag containing clothing and personal items taken from his convertible parked behind the Charter Club. Its top had been slashed.

Mr. Brissie lost a suitcase filled with clothing from his car behind the Terrace Club. Neither victim reported the value of his loss.

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS

In Route 206 Crash. A young driver from Doylestown was knocked unconscious late Friday morning when she ran into the rear of a car waiting to make a left turn near Cherry Valley Road.

Nanci B. Hingston, 19, was taken to the Princeton Medical Center, kept overnight for observation and released the next day. The second driver, Burnes J. Coppage, 32, of Trenton, suffered minor injuries.

According to Township police, the Hingston car, its driver knocked out, rolled into the Arco Station next to Nassau Conover Motors after the impact. Attendants there were startled to see an apparently driverless car entering the station.

Miss Hingston was ticketed for careless driving by Ptl. Mario Musso.

MARY WATTS ASSAULTED

And Robbed. Mary Watts, the indomitable owner of Watts' Store on Route 206, who was robbed in 1962, '63 and '67, was robbed again Thursday by a thug who knocked her to the ground and escaped with about $100.

According to Det. Norman Servis of Township police, Mrs. Watts had locked the store at midnight and was carrying a bag with the money to her apartment next door when a man came up from behind her, knocked her to the ground and fled.

She was treated at Princeton Medical Center for contusions of the eye and head. The only description she was able to give the police was that her attacker was a Negro, between 5-10 and 6-0 and weighed between 190-200 pounds.

An all purpose store, Watts' used to be open 24-hours a day but Det. Servis said that former Township Chief James Campbell was able to convince her to close at midnight after she and her late husband were beaten and robbed in 1967. Ptl. Robert Heacock is aiding in the investigation.

Student Mugged on Campus. Borough police report the mugging of a graduate student a few minutes before midnight Sunday as he was walking south from Dillon Gym.

Police report that he was approached by four shabbily-dressed youths, 14 to 18, who knocked him to the ground and took his wallet containing $12. All then fled on foot toward Washington Road. The victim, whom police declined to identify, was not injured.

"So the muggings are again with us," commented Lt. Michael Carnevale.

TWO FINED $15

In Township Court. Two Princeton residents were fined $15 each last week in Township Court by Judge Burton Peskin.

Mercer County Trails

The average income for a Mercer County family according to 1970 census figures, is $241 lower than the New Jersey average.

In 1969, a Mercer County average family earned $11,166 compared to $11,407 for the state as a whole, the U.S. Department of Commerce said this week. Per capita income for Mercer is $3,631.

Mercer has a population of 303,968, and of these almost 25% are students — 88,384. Almost half of Mercer County's married women — 41.6% — were in the labor force. Of the labor force as a whole, 53.1% in Mercer County held white-collar jobs in 1970.

In the 25-and-up population, 52.6% of the men and 53% of the women, are high-school graduates.

TWO YOUTHS CHARGED

For Drinking on Campus. Two Borough youths, age 14 and 13, were picked up last week by Borough police who charged them with drinking beer on the lawn in front of Firestone Library on the university campus.

They will be processed by the Borough juvenile officer.

A 19-year-old youth from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Gary Marshall, and a 17-year-old Princeton youth have been charged with trespassing after they were found sleeping last week in Murray-Dodge Hall on campus.

Marshall has been charged by University proctors. The charge against the Princeton youth will be made by Borough juvenile department.

Fires at School Bus. A 16-year-old youth has been apprehended by the police after he allegedly fired a BB pellet at a school bus window Friday afternoon as the bus was traveling on Moore Street.

After the driver, Mrs. Lynn Collins of Rocky Hill, reported the incident, Ptl. Arthur Jackson investigated and apprehended the youth. Police confiscated his BB rifle.

MRS. MARTINDELL NAMED

To Head Democratic Delegates. Mrs. Anne Martindell of Princeton was named this week to serve as chairman of the 109-delegate slate which will represent New Jersey at the Democratic Convention in Miami Beach next month.

The South Dakota Senator won 72 of the delegates in the June 6th primary, 10 going to Sen. Hubert Humphrey and 27 remaining uncommitted.

Serving with Mrs. Martindell as vice-chairman will be Jim Bouton, the television sports commentator who wrote the book, "Ball Four." He defeated McGovern's New Jersey campaign manager, Daniel Horgan, when the latter reportedly irritated McGovern delegates by seeking to patch up post-primary differences with the Humphrey faction.

Can Magic Destroy Evil?

The Princeton Community Players have staged a production of Jean Giraudoux's "The Madwoman of Chaillot" at the Little Theater of the Unitarian Church of Princeton. It will be repeated this weekend — June 15, 16, 17 — and, if you are interested in possible ways to save humanity, go.

God knows we need someone to save humanity, someone to help Ralph Nader, someone to point out the errors of our ways, someone who . . . well, if she's a little crazy, who's going to notice? Nobody. No one at all. If we all agree that she's really the sane one, she's sane. Power to the people.

I suppose that is what this play is about. While watching a play, I usually ask myself "What is the reason for all of this?" What is the play beneath (or under, or behind) this production? What — if we take away all of these talking, moving, intrusive people do we have?

In this case, we have a sort of palliative, a play that relaxes our consciences without ever curing our sicknesses. The Madwoman of Chaillot decides to seek the destruction of all the evil men of the world, a bunch of stupid Paris businessmen and their cohorts, because they are selling all the beauty out of life. With the aid of her friends of the street, and abetted by the greed of the businessmen themselves, she does it. It is a laughable metaphor which turns to the audience at last and says, "Now why don't you do to your crummy society what the madwoman has done for hers?"

The question is not really serious. We say, "Righto. Good question. Why don't we?" Why don't we?

BECAUSE WE DON'T REALLY GIVE A DAMN AND WE WALK AS SMUGLY OUT OF THE THEATRE AS WE WALKED IN. This is not, I submit, the purpose of drama. But that is another question entirely, and a big one for the Community Players to deal with.

MADWOMAN: Barbara Herzberg is Mme. Constance, the Madwoman of Passy, in Princeton Community Players' "The Madwoman of Chaillot," in final performance this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

What they have done here is what they have done so well in the past: present a gentle, pompous, fabricated play. It is a play without subtlety and without authentic solutions to authentic problems. One is tempted also to say that it has no feelings or vision, but it is better not to be so harsh, and to say it has shallow feelings and vision.

In short, it is not really a play for adults, because adults ought, I think, to get more for their imaginations to play with than the aetivities of a . . . well, there I go again. The Community Players have given us some excellent characterizations here, especially in the four madwomen.

Joan Goldstein, in the title role, is perhaps a little too graceful, and not quite as dotty as she might be, but she moves and looks and talks and acts like a countess. Barbara Herzberg's second madwoman does genuinely excellent things: small details, precise inflections, and she manages the best-behaved dog I have ever seen on stage. (It is a rare actress who can work this well with animals.)

Sandra Jefferson, with an unobstrusive and passive role, gives us perhaps the most pleasure to watch, because she is in great control of her character. Perhaps it is the most difficult job for an actor to be naive convincingly. In any case, someone should write a love story for this woman.

In contrast to all-these-madwomen, Diana Crane's imperious, legalistic madwoman is commanding, direct, and effective. These four women deserve our best attention; the long period of their interplay in act two is the best time on stage.

Note also Allan Pierce's long speech, in which he, the ragpicker, disabuses the madwoman of Chaillot of her illusions. The truth of his statement, "Every cabbage has its pimp," should have caused the audience to sob. It didn't, but that is not Mr. Pierce's fault; he is excellent, and a pleasure.

I'm serious: this is not reallz for adults. They are lost. Take your children, especially if they believe that things can be changed by magic, as this play seems to. We do love our illusions, but they will ultimately do us in. Perhaps our children are wise enough to see what we choose not to.

COMPANY ASSEMBLES ..

She was Grace in last summer's Intime production of "Joe Egg."

Billy's grandmother will be another well-known Princeton performer, Georgine Freedman. Her most recent appearance was in the Community Players' production of "The Seagull."

GIFTS FOR FATHER

A No-hands Glass? Happy House at the Shopping Center has, in its thoughtful way, a gift idea for the man who can't tell a good story without gesturing. It's a no-hands glass, highball size, belted in the middle with leather: It hangs from the neck by a long brass chain. ($5)

Also at Happy House are such items as a tide timer for the sailor or fisherman in Barnegat Bay. Set it once, and it will keep track of the tide accurately for a year. The dial marks out the number of hours to high or low tide.

Among the miscellany of gifts for the old boy, we saw a new type of reading glass. The magnifier is illuminated and set off by a deep light shade. There's also a personal lock no bigger than a match box that he can use on anything from his golf locker to his briefcase. The combination can be changed at any time. ($5) Comes in a leatherette case.

For the man who is handy around the house, a personal rule that slides out of a red leatherette-and-chrome case about three inches square. A transparent marker for showing the level is inserted on one side. The flexible rule is metal and measures 12-feet when pulled to full length. ($10)

Another idea is the stapleless stapler, made of chrome on a black base ($15). Still another is the deluxe wine cooler made of rich green glass. There's a glass pocket inside for inserting ice cubes, which you cork in place, a pour spout and a cork top. Very attractive piece for $10.

Mongolian Cooker. We saw mugs of solid wood with rope handles and a removable plastic center ($6.95); barbecue aprons humorous and otherwise (about $3.95); and if Father is a gourmet cook, a Mongolian cooker that will bring about a fascinating change from fondue. The cooker is an all-copper pot with an area in the base for inserting red hot charcoal. The pot is lined with an aluminum dish. For the Mongolian venture, fill the cooker with chicken broth and, in a series of small dishes around, have marinated pieces of chicken, sliced pork, meat balls. These bits and pieces are put in tiny, long-handled wire baskets (hok-hoks) and cooked in the boiling broth. For the next course, you fill the baskets with vegetables, and finally, drink the broth.

The Mongolian cooker at Happy House is an authentic reproduction, made in San Francisco. ($49.95)

Happy House also has woks for Chinese cookery, with bases to hold them in place over the stove burner. Some have two handles, others have a long wooden handle. There are steamers — with flat tops, and dome tops, so if father is a chef, these are for him.

Bon Appetit, down at the shopping center, has an exciting supply of the cheeses men enjoy: The great English varieties such as Cheshire, double Gloucester, extra sharp cheddar, mild Leicester, Stilton. From the Swiss, Appenzeller, cured in white wine. There are goat cheeses, wonderous cheeses from France, Italy, Scandinavia.

Among the imported meats are the unforgettable German and Danish salamis, in one-half and 14-oz pieces. If he's a real coffee lover, Bon Appetit suggests mocha, mocha java and, for after dinner, French roast, all in the bean, to grind for you or to grind at home.

Bon Appetit will put together a nice gift box for you, a sampler, if you like. Already packed are such delicacies as Dundee cake from England, elaborate boxes of Perugina candies, Maillard's mixed candied fruit, German and French biscuits and paper-wrapper Italian Amaretti cookies. All are very, very good.

Among the candies, liqueur-flavored chocolates by Droste of Holland.

The Eye for Art on Spring Street has bookends that are different. Nature's art, endlessly interesting, in age-old geodes of various shapes, split and mounted to support any size and number of books. The colors are earth tone, blended in irregular, waving lines in a very beautiful way. (About $25).

The pre-Columbian bowls at the Eye for Art are collectors items, all brought here from Mexico by a young archaeologist. The tones are soft browns and reds. The bowls and also some small figurines have all been looked at by the Princeton Art Museum. Among the figures is a rare piece in crystal depicting a long-tailed animal. There are also arrowheads of various sizes chipped from pieces of black obsidian.

Eye for Art has nice clear lucite frames, a free-flow line that curves back to form a stand at the base. Others can be hung.

On another tack, The Eye for Art is currently showing some bemusing, delightful graphics by artists who are great-colorists. Do stop by.

At Princeton Clothing on Witherspoon Street, we saw the new swim trunks (from $5) and cabana sets. It's a pleasure to see the trend to color in men's wear. The shop has a selection that ranges from conservative to the very new.

We saw the Kabuki coats, or "shave coats" as some call them, in terry velour. One size fits all, and it comes in a three-quarter length with a three-quarter sleeve. Choose blue, maroon or gold, with white piping on all. ($11)

Sometimes you can't keep a good style down, and Princeton Clothing will show you the madras belts and argyle socks that are back with us again. The belts are a little wider, it's true, and the argyles ($2) are a little louder.

The after-shower wrap-arounds of terry are still very popular, and maybe Father will be pleased to throw in his towel. ($5.50 up). There are matching slippers, too.

Princeton Clothing will show you sport shirts in cool double-knit. The fabric isn't like the old Dacron; it "breathes." The selection includes designs with-and without collars. There are prints, stripes and solids.

And among the trousers, the old suntans of World War II are making a comeback. Now they are permapress.

At LaVake's on Nassau St., ideas for Father include the famous Cross pens in gold, gold-filled and sterling silver. Figure about $12 for the gold-filled and sterling. A fun thing is the vermouth dispenser of sterling. It works like a medicine dropper, so that father-the-bartender has strict control over the martini mix. ($10)

People who think big, may be interested in Joe Brown's dynamic sports statuettes at La Vake's. Case in bronze the figures highlight dramatic moments in sports.

For Father, La Vake's has liqueur glasses of pewter (set of six, $25); pewter pitchers for the family bar ($14.50) and a generous-sized tray for a horseman. The edge is pewter.

In consideration of the allowance size of Father's progeny, La Vake has stocked a batch of under $10 items — money clips, key chains, cuff links, pewter jiggers, and watchbands, all handsomely styled.

At The Artisan on Witherspoon Street, we found Arthur and Paula Nagy's sterling cufflinks and tie bars. The designs are unusual, some contemporary, others given an antique look.

The famous "People Mugs" are the Artisan now include moustache cups. The pottery mugs feature somebody's father in bold relief on the outside and there's a blue tint to the interior. ($10-$12). If Father is economical. The Artisan wrly suggests a ceramic piggy bank with a cork snout.

For the fisherman, consider "Sheltered," a sleek and unique carving of two fish poised under a rock ledge carved from a log. An unusual wall hanging about two feet long.

The Artisan has a collection of small sculptures by Fletcher Thompson, all with a whimsy just short of cynicism. Judy Grave's dreamlike woodetchings have caught the fancy of a number of men. All are of beautiful, mysterious girls with long flowing hair in the Lady of Shallot manner. ($35 up)

An interesting elephant of ceramics turns out to be a wine pitcher. You pour from the spout. And for the bird fancier, Nonnie Barne's ceramic birdhouses with an air of Nevernever Land. (from $20)

At Gallery 100, a range of ideas for Father, from handmade neckties made of silk and Liberty Lawn (about $8), to a certificate for a portrait by Don Werden.

For a desk, there are real mushrooms preserved in a secret way, "growing" out of pieces of cork. And nearby are how-to books on graphics and block prints.

The ceramic ashtrays by Connie Bracchi are a great size for the pipe smoker. And, for the bar, Mexican highball glasses (two sizes) in hand-blown glass. Nice, summery colors.

of the series will take place on Thursday evening, July 13th and will present the Eastern Brass Quintet. Details of this program will be announced prior to that date.

FREE CONCERTS SET

By Garden State Arts. Another new concept on Garden State Arts Center programming will be introduced this summer with a series of free Sunday-in-The Park-Concerts featuring outstanding New Jersey musical and dancing groups.

The concerts will provide opportunities for many of New Jersey's talented singers, dancers and musicians to perform at the State's biggest and most complete theatrical facility.

The New Jersey Highway Authority operates the Arts Center at Telegraph Hill Park off Exit 116 on the Garden State Parkway. It also administers the Garden State Arts Center Fund, which will underwrite the series of free concerts.

Any resident of New Jersey will be admitted without admission charge and family groups will be especially welcome. There will be no reservations and no tickets. Seating in the 5,058-seat amphitheater will be on a first-come basis. The programs will start at 1 p.m. and run for about two and a half hours, including a 20-minute intermission. Refreshment stands will be open at noon.

The Sunday-In-The-Park series will open with a program June 25 featuring the Stuart W. Smith Singers from the Little Ferry, Wayne and Westwood areas and the Garden State Philharmonic of Toms River. The Monmouth Symphony Orchestra will have the stage to itself on the following Sunday, July 2.

The New Jersey Ballet Company of Orange will perform on July 16. Sing Out West Morris, an Up with People Singing Group from Morris County, and the James Caldwell Senior High School Summer Band of West Caldwell will share the spotlight on July 23.

PLAYHOUSE

Skyjacked (now playing). Here's a tipical, action-packed melodramer about a hijacked Boeing 707. Charlton Heston is at the controls and Yvette Mimieux is chief stewardess.

Minutes after the plane clears Oakland Airport, a passenger discovers a lipstick message on the washroom mirror, "Bomb on plane. Divert to Anchorage, Alaska, or die." The plot keeps on the go, focusing on the various characters. James Brolin, best known for his "Dr. Kiley" on ABC-TV's "Marcus Welby, M.D.", plays the hyjacker with surprising depth. Heston's tight-lipped, stoic pilot is also effective.

There's a tightly controlled sequence when Heston, flying blind, attempts a landing at Anchorage and a small plane appears on collision course. Another when an FBI man almost freezes to death in the luggage compartment and a bevy of Russian jets loom over the horizon.

PRINCE

Play It Again, Sam (held over final week) is a Woody Allen sex comedy, frothy and full of borscht belt yocks.

Allen plays the role of a loser, a film writer who is graceless and uncertain, wracked with anxiety over his repeatedly displayed impotence.

His wife leaves him, he is a clumsy strike-out on dates, and even a frank nymphomaniac rejects him. As his friends rally around him, they set up dates, coach him in a divan scene and help him into a fair amount of trouble. Diane Keaton, a friend in need, plays straight into the Allen windmill without missing a step.

Audition, Kids!

Try outs will be held Monday and Tuesday for the first production of the Street Theatre's summer season. Anyone going into seventh grade, or older, is eligible to audition. Try-outs will be held at Christ Congreation Church, Walnut Lane and Houghton, starting at 7 p.m.

The first plays will be "Not Enough Rope" by Elaine May and "The Trid-get of Greave," by Ring Lardner.

Workshops, starting with one in stagecraft, will start Monday, June 26 (9:30 a.m. to noon), also at Christ Congregation under Street Theatre auspices.

What IDA Is All About.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

An advertisement appeared on page 21 of the June 8 issue of your paper. It contained some carefully selected facts from the 1967 and 1968 annual reports of the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA). I would like to cite some relevant facts for those citizens who wish to have less biased information before reaching a decision.

(a) IDA contains five divisions and all except the Communications Research Division (CRD) are located in Washington, D.C.

(b) The five research papers listed in the advertisement were selected from many pages of publications. None of these five was written by CRD. The annual reports do not list CRD technical reports.

(c) The following description appears on page 21 of the 1970 annual report, the latest available to me:

"The Communications Research Division, located in Princeton, New Jersey, performs mathematical research and studies communications problems related to national security. Since its inception in 1958, the Division has performed this kind of research with particular emphasis on mathematical foundations and computer applications. Certain linguistic aspects of communication processes also are examined. For example, this year the Division began the study of human speech as a communications means."

Those interested in further information can try to obtain copies of annual reports from IDA. Some are not available because of heavy demand in the Princeton area in recent years.

IDA Does Not Belong Here.

To the Editor of Towo Topics:

The following is an open letter to the Princeton Borough Council, the Princeton Township Committee and the Princeton Community:

The demonstrations that took place at the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA) between May 10 and May 15 were part of a continuing struggle by concerned young people to arouse our consciences so that we would take action, as citizens, to stop the killing being done in our names and with our money in Indo-China. The death and destruction being heaped on the people of South-East Asia is at a level unprecedented in modern warfare.

The confrontation between the demonstrators and the local police, in general, was peaceful. Both the people who participated in these actions and the local police should be commended for their restraint (a few exceptions granted).

It is most unfortunate however, that local citizens and their police are placed into adversary positions because an institution such as IDA is located in our community. IDA is Princeton's Pentagon! It is an integral part of the war machine that is devastating the people of Indo-China. It is an institution that not only has helped to make the killing more effective and efficient, but has concurrently contributed to strengthening government police apparatus against domestic dissent. (See the New York Times, Nov. 12, 1967).

The location of IDA on the campus of a world famous university has permitted it, through this complicity, to cloak itself in the aura of academic legitimacy — while at the same time surrounding itself with an 8-foot high chain link fence topped with barbed wire, flood lights and guards on duty 24 hours a day.

Mr. R. A. Liebler, Director of Institute for Defense Analyses, in his letter of June 6, 1972, to TOWN TOPICS, stated that during the May activity at IDA his family had received threatening phone calls. Such threats must be abhorred; however, let me remark that Mr. Liebler and his colleagues at IDA, through the work they do, not only threaten Indo-Chinese families, but contribute directly hourly and daily, to the death of thousands of Indo-Chinese families and the destruction of their land.

The deadly military purposes and record of IDA is publicly well documented. How long will our community continue to be a party to the work of this institution by permitting it to be located within the borders of Princeton? With this letter I petition the Princeton Borough Council and the Princeton Township Committee to pass ordinances, immediately, to bar the establishment of all military and military-related institutions in our own, as we presently do with certain types of industry.

Since IDA is a direct arm of the Pentagon it should be located (if it must exist at all) at places such as Fort Dix or Fort Monmouth, or any other established and well identified military base.

The argument for locating IDA in Princeton Township because it is a ratable raises a fundamental moral question. As a community, we have purposely zoned out certain types of industry because we felt that they were not in the interest of our community. IDA is not in the interest of our community, and accordingly should be immediately legislated out by our duly elected representative bodies.

To The Editor of Town Topics:

This is in reply to Mr. Liebler's letter. (Town Topics June 8) Mr. Liebler can praise the cops who did the dirty work for him by acting like beasts, armed to the teeth, while we pay their wages, but I again and again wish to remind him and all those who help prolong this criminal war of the Nuremburg judgement.

I believe that the military industrial complex and its Commander in Chief Richard Nixon, is committing a great crime in Indochina. I see before my eyes napalmed, burned up faces of millions of helpless men, women and children.

Over 45,000 of our best men wasted their lives, and hundreds of thousands of them are coming back crippled mentally and physically, for a racist war we cannot win. Over $80 billion of our tax money has been spent to lay waste a whole countryside of Indochina. Over 50,000 babies have been born deformed from the deadly weed killer.

When the final judgement comes, and I know it will come as it came to the Nazi war criminals at the Nuremburg trial, I proudly want to be able to tell my children and grandchildren and our sisters and brothers in Vietnam at the war tribunal that with the help of the brave young people at IDA, I did my bit to save the honor of Unrequited Recycler.

To the Editor, Town Topics:

Each time I read that Township recycling has fallen off, I turn to regard my growing pile of over 70 bottles still awaiting pickup after seven phone calls to the Rescue Mission.

The first week, we were on the route but maybe the young people's zeal in entreating our neighbors to save their party collection of bottles turned the tide. Each Thursday (District 6) passes, and the greens remain by the browns by the clears by the newspapers. Friday phone calls bring promises, Wednesday phone calls bring assurances, Thursday passes, letters are written and silence descends.

Discordant Notes in PHS Sports Program

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I was interested to read concerning the PHS interscholastic athletic program (Town Topics, June 8) that the superintendent believes the individual student is all-important, competition should be played down, and no rules can be set for sports that are different from other school rules.

If this is the case, I would like to know what happens in the music department. Do members of the band and orchestra each do their own thing or do they subordinate themselves in the interest of group achievement?

When the music calls for an oboe, is the violinist offended? Presumably if everyone played a simultaneous solo, equality would be insured, but then, of course, it would no longer be music.

Interscholastic sports such as football are predicated on teamwork and competition. It is certainly legitimate to cancel such a sports program if its goals are incompatible with other more important goals we are striving for, but how can you have a football game and not try to win!

All nine A-1 offices are in touch with scores of employers to find summer job opportunities for students and teachers. Their fees will be limited to a maximum of a week's salary.

According to Mrs. Audrey Hull, founder and president of New Jersey's largest employment complex, "the program has been expanded to include identical opportunities in the temporary-help field. She explained that "where we cannot find summer-long employment for young people, we will put them on the A-1 Temporary Service Payroll, for which there is no fee, and interview and screen them for specific part-time summer requirements by employers."

TO PUBLISH LETTERS

Between Roosevelt, Churchill. The secret official correspondence between Franklin Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, recently released by the U. S. State Department and the British Government, will be edited by Prof. Warren F. Kimball of Rutgers University and published by Princeton University Press. The letters detail the personal and political relationships between the two great leaders during World War II.

The letters and cablegrams between the two leaders, covering the years 1939 to Roosevelt's death in 1945, reveal a relationship that was cordial but tense with differences on matters of policy and strategy. They sought a unified policy in dealing with Stalin while differing in many matters.

The documents show the two men worrying about the delivery of arms and supplies to England and to Russia, the recalcitrance of DeGaulle, stability in postwar Europe, equipping the postwar French army and bringing American troops home. Jocular asides included in correspondence on weighty matters, such as the preparations for the meeting in Teheran.

Princeton University Press expects to publish the papers in a large single volume of about 800 pages, estimated for late fall of 1973.

TAX REFORM BACKED

By Women Voters League. The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area will distribute a leaflet on tax reform and answer questions on this issue at supermarkets and public places in the Princeton-West Windsor area on Saturday.

The League of Women Voters, on record as favoring the Governor's tax reform proposals, has been intensifying its campaign to alert the public to the need for urging legislators to vote for tax reform. The special session on tax reform begins in the State Legislature this Thursday.

Mrs. Letitia Ufford, Mrs. Anne O'Neil, Mrs. Clo Traves and members of the Princeton Area League's Tax Reform Committee, together with Mrs. Frieda Gilvarg, State Program Chairman for the Princeton League, have arranged for League members to be on hand at the Princeton Shopping Center and in Palmer Square to pass out material and answer questions.

Gratitude Expressed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On Saturday, June 10, the 19th Annual Princeton Hospital Fete, The Tempting Fete, concluded another highly successful community endeavor.

To Princeton University, we are especially indebted for the use of the University Fields and for the never-failing cooperation and assistance we have received from many of its departments. To many other educational institutions of the community; to municipal departments of the Borough, the Township and West Windsor Township; to the news media and the hundreds of merchants and businesses of the area; to the churches, service clubs, unions and similar organizations; to hospital personnel and regional school employees; to many of the youth organizations and to thousands of other individuals who help in one way or another: and to TOWN TOPICS for its extraordinary, continuous coverage of all the Fete activities, the Hospital Fete committee says THANK YOU.

Consciousness I furniture from Cane Farm

The pioneer spirit is not merely alive; it thrives, in the spirited early American creations and re-creations at Cane Farm.

How did you get the most warmth from a walk-in fireplace? You cuddled right up to it in a settle, that's how. The high back kept the heat from getting past you, so you got the most good from the least fuel. The original of this settle (late 1600's) is in the Metropolitan Museum. You can fill a foyer wall with our re-creation. It's 51" wide, 64½" high.

Dry sink. Once a necessity, now a simple delight. We make them a dozen different ways. This one's Dutch. Yours can be any style you want.

CYBIS PIECE AUCTIONED

For Bid Of $12,000. An artist's proof of a limited edition white porcelain elephant by Cybis of Trenton, auctioned at the Advance Gala of "Festival '72" last month was bought by Samuel M. Kind, owner of La-Yake's, who outbid his nearest competitor with an offering of $12,000.

Proceeds from the auction and ticket sales for the Gala will become part of a $1,000,000 fund being raised to purchase fine and decorative art objects for the Museum's collection.

The fund raising project, "Focus on the Arts," is being conducted by the Association for the Arts of the New Jersey State Museum on behalf of the Museum. The project was officially opened with "Festival '72," a week of performances and art and craft demonstrations designed to bring the finest in exhibitions, performing arts and art education to the people of New Jersey. The Advance Gala began the week of activities. It is estimated that three years will be needed to reach the $1,000,000 goal.

Mr. Kind, a collector of Cybis porcelain, reflected the spirit of the project by noting, "I was born and raised in Trenton and I am pleased to be able to contribute to the fund being raised for the State Museum's collection. I am also pleased because I was able to add a unique piece to my own collection."

The artist's proof of the elephant is unique in that it is lightly colored on the eyes, the tip of the trunk and the mouth. The hundred elephants in the edition are all white and slightly smaller.

The first elephant of the edition is in the White House collection. Ten elephants are in the United States Department of State for official use. The other elephants have been distributed to dealers for sale to collectors. The only remaining elephant was the one-of-a-kind artist's proof which Cybis gave to the Museum for auction at the Gala.

10 DELEGATES HERE SET

To Attend YWCA Convention. A group of 10 delegates will represent the Princeton YWCA at the country-wide YWCA National Convocation on Racial Justice this Thursday, at the American Hotel in New York City.

About 2,000 persons are expected to attend the convocation which will feature Rep. Shirley Chisholm, Senator Hugh Scott, Rev. Jesse Jackson and Ford Foundation President McGeorge Bundy among its many distinguished speakers and panelists.

The convocation, sponsored by the YWCA of the USA and joined by some 100 national organizations, will involve representatives of government, industry, labor, education, legal, social action and welfare rights groups and the concerned public.

The 10 delegates from the YWCA here are board and staff members and members of the Racism Committee, Mesdames Virginia B. Selden, Marion F. McKeever, Helen Bess, Dorothy Katz, Barbara White, Connie Campbell, Jessica Lamkin, Dolores Magnani, Janet R. Humes, and Lynette Danylchuk.

As Mrs. James C. McKeever, Executive Director of the Princeton YWCA, explained: "The National Convocation is dedicated to the elimination of racism in our country and is a major step in implementing the One Imperative of the YWCA of the U.S.A. — the elimination of racism wherever it exists and by any means necessary.

BAILEY, TYLUS CHOSEN

To "Boys State" Program. Tony Bailey and Kevin Tylus, two scholar-athletes from this area, have been chosen as delegates to New Jersey Boys State, a government program sponsored by the American Legion of New Jersey.

Bailey and Tylus will be representing Legion Post 76 of Princeton at the week-long event which will start on Sunday. They will be among some 250 other boys who will become familiar with our nation's governmental processes by making speeches, introducing laws and campaigning for office.

A junior at Princeton High School, Bailey led the Little Tiger basketball team in scoring (averaging 15 points a game) and assists. He was named to the All-Suburban team.

Tylus, a junior at Hun School, is a letterman in soccer, basketball and baseball. He also led Hun's basketball team in scoring and assists. He had a 15-point average, and earned a berth on the All-Prep School squad.

PETITION GROWS

Cawley Goes to Washington. Another 191 signatures for the Borough-Township end-the-war petition have been received since Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley took the petition to Washington two weeks ago.

The total is now 1,600, with new ones still coming in, Mayor Cawley reported this week. On his May 30 trip to Washington, the mayor talked with Frank Thompson, Congressmen for Princeton for many years, and with Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, who became Princeton's Congressman under redistricting.

"It was obvious from our conversation that Mr. Frelinghuysen wasn't going to support our petition," the mayor reported, "he seemed to find the wording rather naive, and suggested that it didn't allow for the possibility of a cease-fire."

"I told him I felt the message was more important than exact wording," the mayor continued, "the message is 'we aren't happy with the progress being made toward ending the war' and we feel Congress should take more of a role."

Mr. Frelinghuysen told the mayor he didn't feel it was right to pull out of Vietnam and leave allies holding the bag.

"After I came back to Princeton," the mayor said, "I wrote him a letter explaining my own view: you can't get into a mess like this and get out without paying some kind of penalty."

LOWER ADMISSION SET

For Teens at Movies. Admission rates for youths 10 and under will be reduced to $1 Monday through Thursday evenings at the Playhouse and Garden, under an agreement worked out by Palmer Square Inc. and a subcommittee of the Youth Concerns Committee.

Members of the subcommittee, made up of youths from the Red Cross and Flight Two and headed by Linda Karin, met with Fred Blaicher of Palmer Square and Richard Knight, manager of the theaters. The lower price scale will begin Monday.

Also planned are a series of weekly film festivals on Tuesday evenings featuring the films of such stars as Humphrey Bogart, Marx Brothers, Paul Newman, Gary Cooper and others. However, the showing of these films depends on their availability.

POLITICIANS ELECT

To County Offices. Democrats in the Borough re-elected Miss Mary Perone, 244 Witherspoon, municipal chairman of the county committee in post-primary elections held Monday night.

Miss Perone is a member of the Princeton Democratic Association, often referred to as the conservative group. The other Democratic organization, the Princeton Community Democratic Organization, known as liberal, contributed Mrs. Nelson van den Blink, 213 Nassau, as vice-chairman.

Borough Republicans chose Mrs. Christine St. John, 283 Prospect, county captain for the Borough with Kenneth Rendall 307 Hartley Avenue, as deputy.

Both Republicans and Democrats re-elected their chairmen in the Township. John Yoeman will continue in office for the Republicans and Mrs. Elaine Schumann for the Democrats.

MUSICAL REVUE PLANNED

By Senior Citizens. The Senior Citizens Club of Lawrence Township will meet at 12:30 Tuesday at American Legion Headquarters, 100 Berwyn Place.

A special feature will be a musical revue entitled "School Daze" presented by the "Canaries," a singing group of the club, accompanied by the Men's Chorus and directed by Miss Ethel Dettman.

June birthday members will be honored and refreshments served. All senior citizens of the township are invited to attend.

SUPPER IS PLANNED

For Homemaker Trustees, Staff. The Board of Trustees and staff of the Princeton Community Homemaker Service will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Sloane of 214 Bayard Lane on Friday at 6 p.m.

Following a covered dish dinner, entertainment will be provided by the Bell Ringers of the First Presbyterian Church of Cranbury.

OFFICERS NAMED

By Bar Association. The Princeton Bar Association has elected Robert M. Dix of Lawrenceville as its president for the coming year. Mr. Dix maintains law offices at 201 Nassau Street.

William G. Wood, Nicholas Miller and John A. Hartmann III were elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

NEW, FRANCHISED PROCESS
"CARPET MASTER"

Carpet Cleaning
FOR HOME OR OFFICE
STEAM WAY PROCESS

SOIL IS EXTRACTED... NOT SCRUBBED DEEPER INTO THE FABRIC

DEEP CLEAN EXTRACTION
Extracts deep down dirt and soil to fiber base. No residue is left to damage carpet and furniture like other cleaning methods.

GENTLE
No brushes or scrubbing involved. There is no pile distortion. Carpet fiber is restored to like new appearance.

SANITARY
Removes foreign matter as it cleans. Most allergy-carrying particles also removed.

STAYS CLEAN LONGER
Cleans to fiber base, not just carpet surface like outdated processes. Carpets that get cleaner — stay clean longer than ever before.

SEEING IS BELIEVING
You actually see the dirt and grime removed from your carpet.

Old shampooing method is inefficient, costly to you, outdated. Here's why . . .

. . . Heavy brush rotating on carpet fibers tend to distort carpet pile and cause added wear.
. . . Brush drives dirt and detergent deeper into carpet pile making it even more difficult to remove. Top surface of carpet appears clean, but sub-surface dirt and residue remain to collect more dirt or to rise back to surface — soon, carpet appears more soiled than before cleaning.
New "Steam-Way" Jet Steam Clean Extraction utilizes revolutionary new principle . . .
. . . Saturated steam under pressure is forced down into carpet fabric to full depth of pile where it mixes with dirt and sediment holding it in suspension.
. . . Suction then picks up saturated steam entrained dirt mixture and carries it back to vacuum tank.
. . . Carpet is cleaned from bottom up, not top down. There is no residual dirt or detergent in fabric to rise to surface of carpet or to collect more dirt.
. . . Cleaning is thorough. Carpet stays clean longer after job is done.
. . . Recently scrubbed or shampooed carpets can be "Steam-Way" cleaned with same amazing results.

ART
In Princeton

THE SUMMER SCENE

At University Museum. Summer art in Princeton involves both the new and the old. The local galleries are all combining elements of new art, not yet seen in the community with works by gallery artists. This often involves new works by artists previously displayed, but frequently is a repeat showing of a work that has been part of another exhibition.

The Princeton University Art Museum will hang its permanent collection during the next three weeks while it is dismantling the very successful collection of major art owned by Princeton alumni. The lower galleries which house the Oriental, Pre-Columbian and African works, as well as many paintings, will remain open while the changes take place upstairs.

In July and August, the entire Museum collection, covering many centuries of art, will be available to the public. The museum will maintain regular hours, 10-4 on weekdays, 2-4 on Sundays and will be closed on Mondays and holidays.

At The Eye for Art. The very old takes precedence over the new in a collection of Pre-Columbian works that are featured in the gallery. Scholars have not precisely dated the pieces other than to say that some are very early and date from Pre-Classic Aztec to Colonial.

The work on display is from Chocula, Tenango del Valle and other Mexican locations. Included are bowls, small heads, jewelry, weapons and vases. Some of the work is constructed from carved stone and some is ceramic.

Two unusual prints by Sergio Tornero deserve notice. They are both hotly hued multi-colored intaglio prints employing odd patterns and textural effects. These are combined with humorously constructed nudes placed in scenes dominated by very large, very hot looking suns.

At Gallery 100. "A Glimpse of the Future," Art Directions of College Students in an exhibit under the guidance of Elizabeth Steele and Sara Davies, fills both the front and the rear exhibition spaces. This mixed media show of work by art students in New Jersey Colleges provides a visually exciting and varied assortment of works.

Contrasts between the paintings, weaving, batik pottery and jewelry form a scintillating arrary of color, shape and style. Individually the works please as intensely as they do as a group.

The paintings are all skillful and reflect a contemporary approach. Several different styles and mixed media efforts are presented among the two dimensional works and add to the general interest.

Three dimensional art is not overlooked and sculpture, macrame weaving and jewelry are included. In each case there is more than one work in each medium providing variety and interest within the range of a single art form.

The fact that this is student work is only evident by the title and prices listed. The quality is equal to that of art displayed elsewhere by artists with more years and more experience, but obviously the talents on view compensates for the youth of the artists.

At The Artisan. The Artisan contiaues its display of arts and crafts. Ceramics, glassware, pottery and hanging by gallery artists will remain on view throughout the summer. Paintings, drawings and prints will also be displayed through the season.

At Gallery Of Fine Art. Prints and drawings by gallery artists dominate the summer display. Graphics by Shahn, Dali, Kollwitz, Renoir and Redon are among the works by better known artists. A large drawing by Prestopino which is similar to the voluptuous ladies he has been painting and printing shows his subjects equally well in black and white. Although similar works of this period all have strongly colored areas the line drawing has effectively maintained its strength through vigorously developed form.

Paintings on display include the familiar and the new. A small work by Princeton artist Tom George demonstrates this fine sense of balance, carefully constructed by spatial tensions, soft color and precisely developed form.

Large pale tinted hyper-realistic figure paintings by Josef Knopka are also on Josef Knopka are also on view. Pattern is carefully developed using realistic motifs and compliments the soft color and literally displayed figures.

Most unusual is a large oil by Reginald Neal. Giant peaches carefully and realistically hanging from their boughs have been combined with partially hidden erotic accoutrements.

At Kalen's Fine Arts. The Downstairs Gallery at Kalens is featuring the impasto oils of Bouvier De Cachard. Large landscapes, still life, and figures are fragmented by both paint and line while retaining a strong sense of the subject.

The results are rich, competently painted scenes, some familiar such as Notre Dame and Views of Venice; others simple and unknown landscapes. In each case, the artist has divided his space interestingly so that pattern and form complement the intense and compicated palette that he uses. A strong vertical feeling, created by both line and impasto forms stabilizes the vigorous textural and color effects.

Horse paintings by Jack Lawrence Miller complete the show. Realistic oils and watercolors display scenes of jockeys on horseback at the racetrack. The effect is one of realism and the brushwork is vigorous.

SUMMER COURSES LISTED

At Studio on Canal. Two new courses, sculpture for children and sculpture for adults, will be added to the summer curriculum of Princeton's Studio on the Canal, it has been announced by Rex Gorleigh, Director.

The children's sculpture workshop, taught by Diantanya Jones, will feature three dimensional work in wood, clay and brick. Paralleling the children's class is an evening sculpture workshop for adults taught by Richard Gerster.

Wallace X. Conway, curator of exhibits at the State Museum, will again conduct a painting and drawing workshop on Tuesday evenings. In addition, Janice Leefeldt will instruct at ceramic sculpture workshops for both children and adults.

Rounding out a full schedule at the Studio, Mr. Gorleigh will again offer his landscape class, "Painting Tours of Princeton," as well as conduct a Wednesday evening workshop in sketching, drawing and painting. Mr. Gorleigh will also conduct his children's painting class on Wednesday mornings.

The eight week summer session begins Monday. Further details are available from Studio on the Canal, Canal Road (609) 452-9053.

CRASH FATAL TO THREE. Dr. Childs, Wife, Sister Killed. Dr. Howard L. Childs, an emeritus professor at Princeton University, his wife and his sister were killed last Thursday in Maine when the car he was driving was struck broadside by a truck.

Dr. Childs and his wife, Willa, both 74, lived at 51 Lake Lane. His sister, Miss Aletha Childs, was a resident of Claremont, N.H.

Maine State Police said that shortly before 3:30 Thursday afternoon, Dr. Childs drove his car out of a parking lot in Turner, Me., across Route 4, apparently heading for a restaurant. A truck operated by Raymond Thomas of Lewiston, Me., plowed into the car, dragging it for 179 feet before it could stop. All of the car's occupants were pronounced dead at the scene.

A graduate of Dartmouth, Dr. Childs was awarded his PhD. by the University of Chicago. He had joined the Princeton University faculty in 1919.

Public Opinion His Field. At Princeton, he had concentrated on studying political psychology and the effects of pressure groups and communications agencies on public opinion. In 1936, he helped found the Public Opinion Quarterly, which he edited for a number of years.

During World War II, Dr. Childs was on leave of absence from the University while serving with the Office of War Information. Later (in 1953), he was sent to Brazil by the United Nations to lecture on public relations in government. He was the author of numerous articles and several books in his field, one of which was translated into Portugese.

Three daughters survive: Mrs. Arthur Rowse of Washington, Mrs. Richard S. Armstrong of Princeton and Mrs. L. Edwin Sproul of Mystic, Conn., as well as 14 grandchildren. Mrs. Childs is also survived by two brothers, Wallace Whitson of Ocean Spray, Miss., and Robert Whitson, of San Antonio, Tex., and two sisters, Mrs. William Slaughter of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. William Wheeler of Union City, Tenn. Childs belonged to the First Presbyterian Church and the Garden Club of Princeton.

A memorial service was held at the First Church, to which contributions may be made in their memory. The Mather Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Appointment Made By Hun School. Theodore P. McNulty has been appointed Director of Admissions and Development at The Hun School, Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Headmaster, has announced.

Mr. McNulty taught English at Hun for the past year and served as advisor to student publications. He also served as co-chairman of The Heart Fund Drive in Princeton, which was conducted by Hun students.

Prior to joining Hun last September, Mr. McNulty was an editor of the Universal Reference System, a bibliography published by Princeton Information Technology. He also served as director of Information Services at Educational Testing Service in Princeton, and at Newsweek Magazine in New York.

He holds an M.A. from Princeton and New York University and did his undergraduate work at Fordham. He lives at 9 Marion Road East, with his wife, Mary Ellen, a teacher at the Lawrenceville Elementary School, and son Ted, who attends Valley Road School.

TWO PROTESTERS FINED In Borough Court. Two more IDA protesters who failed to appear in court here May 30 were fined last week by Borough Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Aaron S. Kaufman of South Edwards Hall, Princeton University, pleaded guilty to molesting and interfering and was fined $225. He had originally been charged with resisting arrest. Phillip Mather, 62 Bainbridge Street, paid $175 for molesting and interfering and $100 for malicious damage.

Conway McGowan of 340 Brunswick Avenue, Trenton, who has requested a hearing here for probable cause, was sent to a Grand Jury. He has been charged with breaking and entering at the Princeton Inn College, with trespassing at 184 Witherspoon Street and at Westminster Choir College.

George L. McGowen, 216 John Street, was sentenced to 20 days in jail for possession of a stolen check. He had already served the time. Two charges of trespassing against Jerome McGowan, same address, were postponed.

Richard Volz, 82 Spruce Street, was fined $60. He was charged by Sgt. John J. Bellow with molesting and interfering with the American Legion near Palmer Square as it prepared for the Memorial Day parade.

In other cases, Paul H. Robeson of Trenton was fined $100 for possession of stolen property; Isaiah White, 1938 Hall, Princeton University, paid $25 for shoplifting at Davidson's Market; Thomas H. Turney, 39 Quarry Street, was referred to a Grand Jury for attempted rape; and Ralph W. Davis Jr., 67 Clay Street, paid $25 for assault. Davis was also fined $25 for careless driving on a motor vehicle charge.

Charles E. Lawton, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, had his license revoked for two years and was fined $210 for drunken driving.

Judge Tams reserved making a decision until Tuesday on a complaint of Lucia N. Valentine, 7 Lafayette Road, against Maco Stewart, 70 Cleveland Lane. Mrs. Valentine testified that lights from Mr. Stewart's tennis court were too bright and are a nuisance.

She was represented by attorney Gerald Skey; Gordon Strauss represented Mr. Stewart. The Borough engineering department had failed to take action against Mr. Stewart, according to a police spokesman, because it ruled he was not in violation of any zoning ordinance.

BODY FOUND LAST WEEK Of Drowned Princetonian. The body of Gerald Gilbert, 22, of 574 Rosedale Road, was found floating in the Delaware River last Tuesday, four days after the raft on which he was riding overturned near the New Hope wing dam.

His body was spotted last Tuesday around 4 p.m. by a crewman on a tugboat working near the CF&I plant in Roebling. It was taken to Rancocas Valley Hospital in Willingboro where it was identified by the victim's father, Robert A. Gilbert.

With Mr. Gilbert at the time of the tragedy was John M. Provenzano, 26, of Lawrenceville. He managed to swim to shore but Mr. Gilbert was swept away in the rain-swollen river.

20 ARE ELECTED

To PDS Cum Laude Society. Twenty boys and girls have been elected to the Princeton Day School chapter of the Cum Laude Society. The society named 13 seniors and seven juniors to membership.

Election to Cum Laude indicates love of learning and a respect for sound scholarship, said Headmaster Douglas O. McClure in announcing the awards. Human as well as academic excellence is a major factor in choosing candidates.

Seniors elected were Ruth Anne Anderson, Jonathan D. Chilton, Robert L. Gips, Miriam Hafitz, Jan K. Hall, Arthur E. Mittnacht, III, Virginia R. Mobach, Bridgid E. Moynahan, Anne Elizabeth Robinson, Elizabeth V. Sinnott, Ellen K. Sussman, H. Theodore Vogt and Elizabeth Wistar Williams.

The seven juniors chosen were Alan C. Bogdonoff, Helena Mary Brett-Smith, Sandra W. Driver, Elizabeth H. Hutner, Carol M. Lifland, Elizabeth H. Sanford and Roger E. Sherman.

ROOK SALE PLANNED

By Pennington Library. The Pennington Library will hold its fifth annual book sale of used books on Wednesday, June 21, from 3 to 9 on the second floor of the library at 20 South Main Street.

Book bargains abound in the many paper and hard bound books available.

Donations are still being accepted for the sale. Discarded books may be brought to the library or picked up by calling Mrs. I. J. Clarke-Pounder, Chairman, at 737-2751.

FOR YOUR PLEASURE...

Boating and Fishing Offered. The Mercer County Park Commission has announced that the lake at Rosedale Park (formerly Stony Brook) in Hopewell Township has been stocked with 400 trout.

Fishing is permitted in the 38-acre lake, as is boating. Power boats are prohibited.

Richard J. Coffee, president of the commission, also announced that 25 picnic tables are now available on a first-come, first-served basis.

VARIED PROGRAM SET

By YWCA Inside and Out. In its summer program the YWCA places emphasis on outdoor sports and activities, but this season there will be plenty of activity inside the YWCA as well.

Many programs are planned for grade school and high school students, programs for fun and for learning skills. For a complete list of classes, check with the YWCA.

Pre-schoolers can join the Toddler Fun Club: part physical activity, part creative dramatics and story times, meeting Tuesday and Thursday morning; fees are kept low. The music workshop will have a preschool session and a class for one to third graders.

Singing and listening, rhythmic games and learning to express music are part of the program. The instructor, Joan Marco, has her master's degree in music and has much experience teaching and working with children.

Guitar classes and typing are given for preteenage and teenage girls. Office Practice is a program open to junior and senior high school boys and girls. In the Office Practice class, meeting twice a week, students will be taught to work with office machines, to do filing, to use the telephone, and other useful skills that should be important in finding future summer jobs. At the end of the course a certificate will be given and qualifications will be registered with the Youth Employment Service.

A Drop-In Recreation special program plans to make full use of the new Athletic Center. Ten- to 14-year-old girls can participate in ping-pong, crafts, gymnastics, badminton, volleyball, basketball, outdoor activities and swimming. The program will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Classes offered to adults include Painting with Acrylics, taught by Helen Schwartz. The morning class will meet outside when the weather permits, the evening class will meet inside. A new class this summer is a studio course in textile and fabrics, taught by Kiyomo Iwata. Mrs. Iwata has had prize-winning exhibitions in many parts of the country. Another new class is a mini-course on Miniature Gardens. Peckie Witonski will demonstrate bottle gardens, hanging gardens, and ways to display cacti and succulents.

Tiger Athletic Teams Top Previous Year's Mark

Winning championships in golf and swimming and sharing a title in wrestling, Princeton athletic teams improved markedly on their overall won-lost record during the year just ended. Their record for 1971-72 was .612, whereas 12 months earlier, they were pegged at .564.

Eighteen varsity teams, which include 150-pound squads in both football and crew, totalled 136 victories against 86 defeats and five ties. They were paced by two undefeated teams, the golfers at 10-0 and the winning all 11 of their meet. Last year's comparative figures showed 130 wins, 100 losses and 3 ties.

In sharing the Ivy wrestling crown with Pennsylvania, Princeton kept alive its string of league championships in that sport. The Tigers of Coach John Johnston had taken the title outright in 1969, 1970 and 1971. The golfers gained their title by finishing ahead of all Ivy rivals in the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Association Tournament at New Haven in May.

By capturing their first Eastern Intercollegiate League crown ever, the swimmers added a particularly gratifying page to their 1972 success story. Their 82-31 victory over Yale in February was the first for Princeton over the perennially strong Elis since 1938. This accomplishment was paralleled by the outdoor track team, which defeated Harvard in April, 89 to 65, for the first time since 1932.

Eleven Over .500. Eleven Princeton varsities finished above the .500 level while the rest dipped below it. In addition to the perfect performances by the golfers and swimmers, the wrestling team compiled a mark of 11-3, cross country was 8-1 (and won the Big Three title for the first time in ten years), tennis reached the 14-3 level, basketball climbed to 20-7, baseball showed 18-11 (and won the Rollins Tournament for the second successive year), outdoor track was 4-1, and lightweight crew rowed to an 8-1 record.

Among the individual highlights of the year were swimming captain Charlie Campbell's many record-setting performances, topped by his 200 yard backstroke championship at the NCAA Meet in March. Campbell and his freshman teammate, Curtis Hayden, each established three new standards at the Eastern Seaboard Meet earlier that month.

First in 20 years. Wrestler Emil Deliere, who returned to action midway through the campaign after a football injury, became Princeton's first Eastern champion in 20 years when he won the 191-pound title at the March tournament. Deliere then reached the finals at the NCAA Championships before a recurrence of his injury forced his withdrawal during the final bout.

On the football front, Hank Bjorklund climaxed a brilliant career by gaining the University's all-time career rushing record with a three-year total of 2362 yards. He broke the old mark set by Heisman Trophy winner Dick Kazmaier from 1949 through 1951.

Fencer Rick Lawrence became the Eastern foil champion, diver Collins Landstreet won the one-meter event at the Easterns, basketball ace Brian Taylor garnered the scoring championship of the Ivy League before leaving to join the professional ranks, Gene Halton (with a Princeton and Heptagnal record of 7 feet-1 inch in the high jump) and Fred Schnure in the 440 became Heptagonal track champions, Doug Greenwood captured the IC4A title in the hammer throw and the Tiger lightweight freshman crew were winners at the Sprint Championships in Worcester, Mass. Later, four members of that boat rowed to a convincing victory in the "freshman four" event at the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Championships at Syracuse.

Old Nassau's freshman teams also edged the record upward slightly. They posted 53 wins, 32 losses for a .624 mark; last year, the record showed 100 wins, 63 losses and four ties for .611. Since last year, however, the number of freshman teams has been reduced through varsity eligibility to eight.

Yale Easiest for Tigers

Of the seven other teams in the Ivy League, Princeton had greatest success with Yale during the past 11 months. The Tigers lost only four times in 19 contests with the Elis, winning 14 and tying another.

At the other end of the scale was Pennsylvania, which took 13 of 18 decisions from Princeton. Cornell was the only other Ivy League member with which the Tigers failed to break even, the Red showing a 9-7 record in its favor.

Harvard, which has more often than not dominated its rivalry with Princeton in recent years, was a 10-8 victim during the past 12 months, while Dartmouth was barely shaded, 6-5. The record with Brown was 5-4-1, that with Columbia, 10-4.

SPORTS in Princeton

ETS, MCGRAW-HILL LEAD

In Business Softball. Not surprisingly two of the perennial powers in the Princeton Business Softball League have climbed to the top of the standings in both divisions after the first month of play.

ETS, however, must share its spot with Forrestal, which knocked off the defending champions, 16-13 last week. Both teams had 5-1 marks through the games of June 6.

McGraw-Hill is all alone in the west with FMC, as usual, in hot pursuit a game behind. McGraw-Hill handed FMC its only loss so far, winning, 11-4, two weeks ago. Mike Beauchemin, John Johnson and Ralph Cribbs hit home runs for the winners, while Bill McDade, Jim Morris and Tom Wood had three hits apiece. In its other game, McGraw-Hill walloped RCA B, 15-3. Bruce Belovin, Ang Vasti and Dick McDougal had three hits in this one.

FMC bounced back the following week and whipped Cities Service, 13-3, lead by the hitting of Bill Hymans, four for four, Chris Rich, three for four, and Bob Gibilisco and Tony Lore, each of whom hit a three-run homer.

In the east, Forrestal's victory over ETS came when the winners tied the game in the sixth and then scored five in the seventh. ETS came back with two tallies in its final at bats, but fell short.

Forrestal beat ERC, 12-5, for its other triumph. ETS had to scramble in its other game, coming up with a last-ditch rally that proved successful this time. With Cyanamid ahead, 10-9, in the seventh, ETS scored twice to win it, 11-10.

RCA A won a pair, and is now in third place a game behind ETS and Forrestal. In the first game, Hopewell TV fell, 6-2, as pitcher Ron Henderson held the losers hitless until the fourth. RCA scored four times in the third inning on three singles and a home run by Vince Boccanfuso. In a 21-14 triumph over NAPLC, Murray Woods was the offesive leader with four hits, including a pair of homers and a pair of doubles, good for six RBIs.

In other games, Shearer Tree

LEGION DEBUT SPOILED

For Post 76, Princeton's debut in Legion baseball got off to a rocky start Sunday as the area's new entry, Princeton Post 76, was routed by Ewing Post 314, 15-3.

Post 76, dominated by players from the Princeton High School team, scored single runs in the fourth, seventh and eighth innings — all of them unearned. It committed more errors — six — than it had hits — five.

Post 314, meanwhile, was collecting 19 hits off Lance Marshall, who pitched five innings, and reliefer Ray Richards. Frank Cipulla got credit for the win.

FOUR GOLFERS ADVANCE

To Springdale Semi-Finals. It will be Maury Mather against Jack Sweeney and Bill Paine against Moore Gates, Jr. Saturday in the semi-final round of the annual club championship at Springdale.

They will play 18 holes, with the winners meeting Sunday in a 36-hole match for the title. Semi-finals and finals in four other flights are also scheduled, but all these matches will be decided over 10 holes.

In action last weekend, Kester Pierson, the defending champion, eliminated the medalist, Glen Goethals, 4 and 3, but was himself defeated in his bid for a second successive title when he lost on Sunday to Mather, 4 and 2. Mather's first-round victory was over Dick Liebler, 2 and 1.

Sweeney reached the semi-finals with a 2-and-1 triumph over Bill Millman and a narrow victory over Bill Quackenbush, the University golf coach, that went 19 holes. Earlier, Quackenbush had eliminated Alan Frank, Jr., 2 and 1.

Paine, a former club champion, triumphed over Bob Shillaber, 8 and 6, before defeating Eddie Donovan, 4 and 3. Donovan had advanced when he ou ted Jack Fu'erer. Gates won from John Sienkiewicz, who had taken the title in 1970, 5 and 4, and then conquered Karl Pettit, Jr., 4 and 3. Pettit had gone 19 holes in the first round to edge Harry Sayen.

In the first flight, Gil Spencer defeated H. C. Sturhahn and Roland Smith after Smith had topped Charlie Bardwell, 3 and 2. Robert Lewis won, 2 and 1, from Mike Shillaber and Jack Houghton eliminated Dan Hall on the 18th green, 1 up. Lewis and Houghton have yet to play their quarter-final match.

Charlie Foster reached the semi-finals with victory by default over Art Sheeran and a 3-and-2 win over Art Morgan. In the first round, Morgan defeated Dick Schoch, 3 and 1.

Joe Masick will meet Foster in a semi-final match, following a 4-and-3 victory over Bill Pearce and a 1 up decision over Norm Schuele. Schuele won Saturday from Stanley Apple, 2 and 1.

Ralph Allaire took two matches in the second flight, defeating Ray Woodrow, 2 up, and Fred Gallagher on the 20th green. Gallagher won his first match from Robert Goethals in 19 holes.

Bob Olson advanced to the semi-finals when he won from Charlie Coppinger, 1 up, and 3 and 2 from Oliver Houghton. Houghton had ousted Bob McHugh, 6 and 5.

Mac Morris won over Dick Thompson, 1 up, and Asa Farr eliminated George Conover, but the Morris-Farr match has not been played. Harold Crane is in the other semi-final

Team Fee Cut

The Princeton Recreation Board last week cut in half — from $25 to $12.50 — the cost to additional members of a non-resident family in the Princeton Community-AAU Swim Team. The cost for the first member of a non-resident family remains at $40 per month. Princeton resident members pay $20 and $12.50 per month.

William Farley, coach of the team, had appeared before the board to request a cut in the nonresident fee. He reported that 19 of the 47 members of the team at the time were non-residents and that the cost for a non-resident family with three or four children in the program was almost prohibitive.

Farley also told the board that he hopes to have 60 team members by the end of the season.

WINNERS LISTED

In Women's Golf. Mrs. James Warga won the Betty Whelan Trophy at Springdale Golf Club last week, with a 36-hole gross of 88-91—179. The runner-up was Mrs. James Thornton, 93-88—181. Forty-four members participated.

Mrs. Whelan won the Chairmen's Tournament, a 36-hole low net affair, when she shot 69-73—142. Mrs. Donald Shaw was the runner-up, with 148 on rounds of 72 and 76. Mrs. Ralph Mather and Mrs. Kester Pierson, co-chairmen of the Women's Golf Committee, were the sponsors.

19 MEDALS WON

By Jr. Olympic Team. The 22 members of the Princeton Recreation Department AAU Junior Olympic Team who competed in the state finals Saturday in Elizabeth returned home with 19 medals.

Michelle Broadway accomplished a sweep of all her events by winning the midget girls 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash and anchoring the midget 440-relay team. Other members of the relay team are Marie Sheehan, Mary Duryee and Linda Edwards.

Valerie Van Horn threw the baseball 15 feet farther than she ever had before to win a silver medal in the bantam division. Linda Littell also won a silver when she bettered her own previous best time in the 50-yard dash. The midget boys relay team of Tom Bolster, Tim Wojciechowitz, Pierre Murri and John Rosenthal capitalized on superior baton passing to place second in their event.

Capturing bronze medals were Evelyn Pittman, midget baseball throw; Tad Wislar, bantam long jump; and Mary Dwyer, midget high jump; and the bantam relay team of Mark Goodman, Jeff Lippincott, Ian Rothrock and Wislar.

SEASON NEARS END

For Carnegie Sailing Club. The Carnegie Sailing Club capped its spring picnic Sunday with a Watermelon Pairs special event. The races required a son, daughter or wife at the helm with father aboard as crew. Robert Holzman, Mrs. Brewster Young and Barrow Worm claimed the ice cold watermelon prizes for best records in the two-race series.

In the championship racing, Ed Metcalf paced the Sunfish followed by Jack Kunz. Commodore Dick Hill had the third best average, including his first win of the season. The Sloop class managed two races, Hector Poventud tying Vagn Worm for the day's honors.

June 18 will be the last Sunday of championship racing, with four skippers in contention for first place in the Sunfish class. The Bermuda Crown special event has been rescheduled for June 25. This will be the last day of racing for the club until after Labor Day.

LIKE COMPETITION?

Get In The Swim. The Princeton Community Swim Team has attracted a wide range of swimmers — from six year olds to college students to Mrs. Karen Hodell, of Lawrenceville Road, a 29-year-old mother of three who signed up last week.

According to Bill Farley, head coach of the newly organized team, the squad works out daily from 4 to 5:30 and on Saturday mornings at 7:30. When school ends, members will work out twice a day, early in the morning before the Community Park pool opens to the public and from 6 to 8 p.m. when pool use is at its lowest.

Information about signing up for the program is available from Farley at 452-3543 or from John Healy at 921-2558.

teams for girls will be fielded for the first time by The Hun School this fall, Athletic Director David Leete has announced.

Teams will engage in interscholastic competition in field hockey, basketball and tennis. Additional teams in lacrosse and softball are being considered, according to Leete, who said the new teams are a response to the growing enrollment of coeds at Hun.

LUCAR HARDWARE ON TOP

In Babe Ruth League. Scoring three runs in the last inning to edge Will's Shell, 9-8, Lucar Hardware last week took over first place in the West Windsor Babe Ruth League with a 3-0 record.

Joe Czeslowski was the winning pitcher for Lucar, going the distance, while Mike Shaddow pitched all but the last inning for Will's before giving way to Darryl McPherson. Pacing the Lucar hitting attack were Lucas Campbell, Don Hutchinson and Jim Mellor, each with two hits apiece, and Randy Waring, who doubled. Mike Howard and Marty Tantum each rapped two hits apiece for Will's. Both teams had entered the game with 2-0 records.

Earlier, Lucar defeated Lions Club, 12-3, as Mark Diezemann yielded only three hits in picking up his second win. Two of those three hits were doubles by Kevin Seiberg and Steve Jones.

Rich Sanders and Billy Schroeder each doubled and singled for Lucar, while Don Hutchinson added a pair of singles.

Will's had won its second straight earlier with a 16-4 triumph over Harbourt Air Freight. Winning pitcher Marty Tantum aided his own cause with a double and single at the plate.

Tom LePrevost, Tom Murphy and Darryl McPherson each had two singles for Will's while John Coastas led Harbourt with a double and single.

In two other games, Harbourt and Lions split, Harbourt winning the first, 6-5, and Lions the second, also by one run, 5-4. In the former, Harbourt managed only two hits, both by Dick Young. Young's second was a squeeze bunt that scored the deciding run in the last inning. Ted Servis collected three hits for Lions.

In the latter game, Lions nipped Harbourt in the last inning when Ron Rogers singled down the third base line with the bases loaded. Roy Hadden got the win in relief of Servis.

Servis homered and Steve Jones banged two hits for the Lions. Harbourt scored all four of its runs in the first on four walks, a sacrifice and singles by Dave and Mickey Kodner.

Snickenberger Lost to Tigers in Two Sports

Walt Snickenberger, who carried most of the hopes for a strong offense in both football and hockey at Princeton next year, has been required to withdraw from the University for academic reasons.

Coming off disappointing seasons last fall and winter, both teams had thoughts of topping the .500 mark despite sizeable rebuilding problems. Now, in the departure of one man, they have lost much of the potential spark that was to light the path toward brighter days.

Snickenberger, a member of the Class of 1974, was as versatile an athlete as Princeton has seen in a decade or more. In football, he was a swing man for both halfback Hank Bjorklund and fullback Doug Blake, and had been labelled a sure starter this fall as the top holdover running back.

Snickenberger averaged 4.7 yards, caught 14 passes for 164 yards and scored three touchdowns. A topflight broken-field runner, he returned 21 kickoffs for a total of 530 yards.

The top scorer in freshman hockey history two years ago, Snickenberger led the varsity last winter with 19 goals and 9 assists for 28 points, figures that were far ahead of the runner-up. At the end of the season, he was elected co-captain with junior Ed Swift—one of the few Princeton athletes so honored before his senior year.

TWO TEAMS UNDEFEATED

In Little League Play. After the first week of action in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association Little League, Roma Eterna and Hook & Ladder are the only two of eight entries that have not tasted defeat. Each has a 2-0 record.

Roma outlasted Elks Thursday in a slugfest, 17-9, making an easy winner of Carl Nassaro. Frank DiMeglio took the loss. Despite the score, Roma's John Boccanfuso connected for the game's only homer.

Roma opened the season with a 6-0 shutout of the Eagles, as Boccanfuso set the losers down on three hits. His teammates backed him defensively with three double plays. David Fitzgerald batted 3-for-4 to lead the victors' attack.

Hook & Ladder kept pace Thursday with an 8-2 decision over Italian-American Sportsmen Club. Charles Waaben and Jon Miller combined to strike out 11 IASC batters but lost their shutout when Mario Mangone stroked a two-run homer in the sixth. Offensively, Jerry Moyer had three hits and stole home, and Miller connected for his second homer of the season.

On opening day, Hook & Ladder used a pair of two-run homers by Miller and Tommy Ferguson to build an 8-to-5 victory over Engine No. 3 Winning pitcher Robert Rosner held the losers to one run until he weakened in the last inning.

In other games Thursday, Post 76 stopped the Eagles, 5-3, and Engine No. 3 came from behind to win its first, a 12-8 decision over Engine No. 1.

Post 76 winning pitcher Woody Clark fanned 10 and was backed at the plate by Mark Taylor, who homered, doubled and singled. Trailing by five after two innings, Engine No. 3 scored 11 to finish on top. Providing the power were Robert Mooney, three hits; Justin Leuper, two hits, and Cliff Gibbons, four RBIs. Morgan Mormon and Bobby Mangone combined for five hits for the losers.

Earlier on opening day, in a game that paired last year's champion Post 76 with IASC, which finished in the cellar, the Sportsmen turned it around by defeating the defending champions, 10-2. David Sally, playing in his first league game, went all the way for the win. Mario Mangone excelled on defense at short for IASC. Robert Cronin, Mark Taylor and Nelson Lam hit safely for the losers.

The Elks took their opener from Engine No. 1, 10-5, behind the pitching of Tony Opperman. Chuch Kohli batted in two runs for the Elks, while losing pitcher Robert Willis homered to keep his team in contention.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE STARTS

Conte's, Teague's, Ivy Lead. Conte's Bar, Teague and Hinds, the defending champions, and Ivy Inn all got off to a successful start last week as the Princeton Recreation Department Adult Softball League got under way at Community Park.

Conte's Bar, boasting a team average near .500, sprayed 35 hits in its opening two games as it defeated Princeton Athletic Club, 9-5, and Andy's Tavern, 12-2.

Teague and Hinds relied on its twin assets of experience and tight defense to defeat Grover's Hustlers, 5-3, and HAC, 6-5. In the latter, the Icemen had to score two runs in the seventh to come from behind to win. In both games, the seasoned veterans made fewer mistakes and won as a result.

Ivy Inn stopped HAC, 9-1, and lashed 17 hits in the opener to trounce the Hustlers, 16-3. Billy Bartolino and Doug Watson combined for five hits in both games to lead Ivy Inn at the plate.

In other games, Nassau Conover defeated Andy's Tavern, 11-3, despite a 3-for-3 performance by Gerry Fabian for the losers, and Staats Electric collected 16 hits to upend PAC, 11-2. Rob Staats and Dave Drake each had three hits apiece for the Electricians.

SUMMER CIRCUIT STARTS

For Tennis Players. Junior players in the Princeton Community Tennis Program will enter a number of tournaments this week as the summer circuit starts.

The Middle States Girls Grass Court Championships will be held June 19-23; Pennsylvania State Boys Championship, June 19; and Pennsylvania State Boys Championships, June 19-23. The Philadelphia District 12-and-under championships are currently in progress.

Details of these tournaments are available in the Princeton Community Tennis Program's summer brochure.

A new event, the Princeton Junior Tennis Championships, are being played every afternoon at Community Park Courts for boys and girls 16 and 18. A similar event for boys and girls 12 and 14 will be held in mid-July.

Co-chairmen for the boys tournament circuit are Mrs. Louise Baumer, 924-5385, and Mrs. Melvin Schulman, 924-7235; for the girls, Mrs. A.C. Reeves Hicks, 896-1164, and Mrs. Francis Austin, 924-5012. Those interested in entering matches should check with these chairman for a possible carpool.

A Shetland Sheepdog owned by Margaret Van Horn of Princeton was runner-up, while third and fourth places went to a Miniature Poodle owned by Dr. Charles Rice and a Collie owned by Virginia Palumbo of Trenton.

The Junior Handler award was won by Chris Russo of Princeton and his Golden Retriever, James Moncur of Kendall Park was the judge.

A German Shepherd won first prize in the Intermediate Division for Fairlie Nicodemus of Skillman. Eunice Ellis of Hopewell placed second with her Siberian Husky.

Open Basketball Tourney Planned by NJSIAA

The New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, no stranger to controversy, has announced plans for a change in the format of the annual post-season state basketball tournament that has already triggered disagreement among the coaches.

Under the proposed revision, starting with next year's tournament, all member schools will be eligible to participate regardless of their record. In the past, a team had to have a .500 mark or better at the mid-season cutoff date to qualify. The lone prerequisite under the proposed plan is that each school must declare in September whether it plans to participate.

Another innovation will provide a home-court advantage for top-seeded team, up to the quarter finals. In cases where the gym is deemed unsuitable, a neutral site will be substituted.

If the change is adopted — and it has already been endorsed by the NJSIAA Executive Committee — all county and conference tournaments would have to be concluded by February 24. The first open NJSIAA basketball tournament would then begin on February 26.

Still another projected change will be an elimination tournament among the top four public school champions and the three parochial group champions to determine a single state championship team. If approved by member schools at the annual NJSIAA meeting of next December, the playoff to select a single state champion would start in 1974.

Marvin Trotman, new basketball coach at Princeton High School, reported that he liked the idea of giving so many teams a chance to play and the prospect of having the group champions play, but he attached the home court advantage rule as "not being very liberal." He said such a rule meant at least a 10-point advantage for the home team.

Coaches of superior court teams in the area were opposed to the plan. Trenton High's Jim Schlimm accused the NJSIAA of trying to make a three-ring circus out of the whole thing. Emil Wandishin of Ewing said he failed to see the reasoning behind it, adding: "A tournament is supposed to be something special for the better than average teams."

Princeton High School last qualified for the NJSIAA tournament in the 1969-70 season, when it lost to Cherry Hill West in the opening round. Its other recent appearance occurred in the 1965-66 season. It defeated Asbury Park but lost to Neptune in the second round.

Summertime, and the living is easy — in fact, it's easy all through the year in this appealing five bedroom, three bath ranch house with its thoroughly efficient floor plan. The paneled living room with fireplace and picture window, streamlined kitchen, and children's wing open off the entrance hall, while the master suite is peacefully separated from them all. The glassed-in dining room, which opens on a deck with built-in benches, is an attractive highlight. "Down under" there's almost a whole house worth of living space, since the entire area is above grade and tile-floored. Outstanding is the family room, with its louvered closet storage, big window, outside door, and marvelous fireplace with an ancient beam mantel enclosed by old barn siding. Another big room for playroom, office or whatever-you-need, plus laundry-storage rounds out the "below decks" space. For an almost in-town area, the grounds are remarkably secluded. Enhanced by a wee brook and an abundance of lovely trees, the lot is as easy to look at as the house is easy to live in. $67,500

This rambling frame house, nestled in a lovely wooded setting, conveys a feeling of its personality on first sight. The rustic atmosphere moves inside with paneling in many rooms, including the large living room with brick fireplace wall. Besides the big master bedroom (with bath), there are four more rooms (one with fireplace), a pantry-bar and a second bath on the first floor. The rooms are of varying size (one is about 25x47 for instance!) The upstairs is quite regular—four nice bedrooms, plus tiled bath. LIVE IN A BARN AND LIKE IT. 150 years ago the Amish people built this huge barn. Now a modern master craftsman is remodelling it in excellent taste. The massive pegged beams remain. You'll have a feeling of the spaciousness of a Vermont ski lodge in this 22x32 living room with center fireplace. There's a modern eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a 26x30 rec. room with original stone walls. A two car attached garage is being added and the exterior is rough cedar siding. It'll make a beautiful country estate at $89,000. Extras are easy maintenance and plenty of room to add a swimming pool.

BIRDWATCHERS — THIS IS FOR YOU. Only the birds disturb the tranquility of this quiet Princeton Township street. A custom built brick ranch with three bedrooms, 2 baths, extra large eat-in kitchen with adjacent laundry room, a log burning fireplace in the living room and another in the basement. Central air and big brick patio. Don't disturb this quiet neighborhood by driving by but call us to show it to you. Reduced to $64,900

SOMETHING OLD

An historic pre-Revolutionary cottage with a fascinating past. At the moment, it has 8 rooms and 1½ baths but the possibilities for expansion or rearrangement are many. You'll be interested in the hand-hewn ceiling beams, wide floor boards, antique carved mantel and other fascinating detail. On 4 acres with old trees, a barn and 471 feet of frontage on the Delaware and Raritan Canal, it is priced at $67,500

SOMETHING NEW

Also in the picturesque village of Griggstown, just minutes north of Princeton. This one's a spanking new two story of traditional design on nearly two high acres flanked by lovely farm estates. It consists of center hall, a pair of living rooms, one with fireplace, dining room with french doors to deck overlooking nearby pond, big country kitchen, 4 double bedrooms and 3 baths. Basement, attic and garage, central air conditioning. $65,000

SOMETHING BORROWED

When this nostalgic Princetonian planned his house 11 years ago, he cleverly adapted certain elements of design from Princeton landmarks he and his family had loved. At one end of the colossal sunken living room with its elegant tray ceiling, there's an exact replica of the cozy fireplace alcove in the lobby of the old Princeton Inn. And upstairs, off three of the five bedrooms, are copies of the Palmer Square balconies, in this case with a happy view of woods and meadow. Wide pine floors and exposed ceiling beams add to the old Princeton ambience. Deep center hall, study, dining room (opens to covered terrace), country kitchen, laundry lavatory. Pond for swimming and skating. Beautiful grounds. Unique. On two acres at $137,500

AND SOMETHING BLUE

Spend a blissful summer's holiday right in your own back yard by the side of a sparkling azure pool encircled with broad terraces and set like a gem in a secluded Japanese garden. Your family will thank you forever for moving them into this unusual two story just off Cherry Hill Road in the Township. Inside it's decidedly contemporary exterior of no maintenance brick and redwood, you'll find a compact floor plan with rooms arranged for maximum privacy for each member of the family. Formal living and dining rooms are off the beaten path, while breakfast and dining rooms open conveniently to pool and terrace. Ground floor guest room and bath. Quiet master suite, three children's bedrooms and bath upstairs. Lovely, woodsy grounds. $97,500

VINTAGE YEARS

A home built like this is the same as drinking fine wine. The materials and workmanship go back to the old days of fine hardwood floors, plaster walls, slate roof. Time has made the shade trees very tall, the hedge high for privacy and all the pretty landscaping blossom with maturity. The large living room with fireplace opens to a sunny enclosed porch, large formal dining room with attached screened-in porch, nicely modernized kitchen and powder room. Second floor has 4 bedrooms plus a small sewing room and full bath. Two car garage. Offered at $55,000

CRAFT AND ECONOMY

A house you can afford with many "fun" amenities. The screened-in porch off the living room is wonderful for warm weather entertaining, or use the dining room for formal gatherings. A cozy family room with fireplace, very modern kitchen with self-cleaning oven; and a conveniently placed laundry area plus powder room. Second floor has nice master bedroom with private bath and 2 more bedrooms, suitable for the children, and hall bath. Save yourself on exterior maintenance because of aluminum siding and enjoy the excellent landscaping. Wall-to-wall carpeting; in many rooms and on the stairs. A work bench in the full basement is a nice extra for the handy husband. Two car attached garage. An excellent chance for the young couple to get started in a nice way. $52,500
